Wooden Wedding—Coming Wedding
—Names of Streets—Dr. Packard's
Vacation—Dances and Suppers—
Our Home Folks.

A very pretty little wedding reception was given on Tuesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Adelaide Gunther, on Academy Hill, upon the occasion of the wooden anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Clinton. The house was beautifully decorated with laurel, the state flower, and refreshments were served. Mrs. Clinton, sister of Mrs. Annapolis to attend the reception. A few of those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wheeler and Miss Dorothy Wheeler, Mrs. Marion Ingram of Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Day, Miss Ella Jackson, Miss Julia Fairchild and Miss Dyer.

On both Monday and Tuesday last people in town saw three handsome and sleek deer feeding in Union cemetery. They were beautiful animals and were peacefully nibbling the grass. Miss Jeannette Booth was in Derby on Tuesday to attend the unveiling of a monument to the heroes of the war of 1812. She read a paper on the Dartmoor prison, in England, in which a former citizen of this town was confined during the war.

The many friends of Donald Falken will be glad to know that he is in the employ of the Pullman Palace Car Company, which has its headquarters in New York, and that he is doing well. This gives him an opportunity to travel good bit about the country, which is quite to his liking. Christ church is to be decorated with laurel, in full blossom, from Pine Rock park, for the coming wedding of Mr. Lovell and Mrs. Hines family resides, will smile again in a youthful manner decorated with the same flower.

Mr. Wellington Walker is now employed at the headquarters in New Haven on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. Harry Sherwood took a run up to town on Tuesday from Southport, and was calling on old friends. There are streets and lanes in town which have rather strange names. California street got its name from the fact that a man named Philo Bassett, a deer, came back from California and built a house on the street. It used to be called Moll's lane. Tea Party lane gets its name from the fact that in early days the good old dames used to go across lots towards the river, to take tea with friends. The path they trod got the name of Tea Party. On old maps of the town can be found Hell Lane and Goose Lane. And once there was a place in Stratford called Royal Exchange.

Yesterday Mr. William St. John went to Morris Cove to attend the business meeting and outing of the Connecticut Pharmaceutical association. George Dickinson of New York, is visiting her sister, Mrs. William B. Tuttle, who is quite ill. The Jewell market is receiving a new and bright white paint. Simon Pease, County Commissioner, has been visiting in town, presumably in connection with looking into the liquor license situation. Something like two or three hundred of the employees of the U. M. C. Co. of Bridgeport, passed through town on trolleys on Tuesday evening, bound for a good time at Savin Rock.

Monday next Rev. Dr. Packard will leave town for a 12 days vacation in Maine. He goes to New Brunswick first to attend the annual commencement of Bowdoin college, of which he has been one of the overseers for the past 28 years. His grandfather held the same position as long ago as 1802.

On Wednesday, the 23rd of June, will be graduation day, for Deakula S. Alexander of Washington will deliver the address. After graduating Dr. Packard taught for five years in his college. Before he returns to town he will spend a week at the Rangleley lakes, boating, fishing and resting, at the invitation of his brother.

One of our Enidville clubs has been taking an outing this afternoon at Beardsley Park. It assumed the form of a basket picnic and proved to be very enjoyable. It was the first time the club has appeared in public. A young man who once lived in town, Alfred Loury, has graduated with high honors from St. Francis college.

Those who attended the String Orchestra dance last night had the hope of their lives. The music was loud and the floor of the hall all that could be wished.

Miss Ruth Bristol is home from a visit to Danbury, in the near future her mother will entertain the Colonna Art club, at her spacious residence on Main street.

A deer was recently seen going in the direction of King street. What could be the attraction? The Whiting building is being painted white.

The late Major William W. Starr of Bridgeport is said to have been well known in this town.

Charles Bradley's bungalow on East Broadway will soon be ready for occupancy.

The supper by the Woman's Aid society will be given this evening, and is sure to draw a well filled house.

Business Outlook—Hints of Prosperity

—Arrivals in Town—Latest New Books—Games to Come—Personals

J. H. Robinson, superintendent of the Aluminum foundry, has just returned to town from an extensive business trip, including Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New England. He is much encouraged at the business prospect and finds signs of prosperity everywhere. The foundry has recently received several large boxes of patterns for gasoline machines and orders are coming in rapidly. The prospect for business during the summer is good. Mr. Robinson says that his foundry will be only too glad to use electric lights as soon as they can be had. During the winter the rule has been heretofore to have but half an hour's nooning, so as to get through work by half after four o'clock, on account of the blizzards experienced in lighting up the foundry. A few days ago Miss Margaret Skillen Robinson, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, sailed for a three month tour of Europe. She goes first to Brussels and thence to Paris, and will visit friends and acquaintances in Great Britain.

The Neal family arrived at the beach on Tuesday and have opened up their cottage. A couple of college students are in charge of the bathing pavilion for the summer.

Mrs. H. C. Fairchild and Mrs. Sharp were in Derby on Tuesday to attend the reception held by Mrs. Charles H. Pinney, who served a delicious luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Morgan attended the reception and garden fete given on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John Stokes of Bridgeport. A lawn was brilliant with Chinese lanterns and there was music and dancing.

Supt. Wheatley visited New Haven again yesterday, fully expecting to be able to engage another teacher to fill the vacancies which will exist in the schools of this town and Westport, at the end of the school year.

Dr. Ortel was at the Lewis Morris place yesterday, looking over the premises. He came from Kingston on the Hudson, and thinks he prefers this town as a place of residence to that city. He used to be the head gardener for Mr. Morris. Next Sunday there will be two games of base ball on McGarry's field. The first will be between the Greens Farms team and the Old Fairfields, the game to be called at 1:30 p. m. The second game, at 3 o'clock, will be between the Stars and the Maplewoods of Bridgeport.

Judge and Mrs. Elmore S. Banks left town a few days ago, with a party of friends, filling two automobiles, for a trip to Haddam, where they intend to spend a week.

Miss Louisa Bulkley and Miss Anna Sherwood are in Wilbraham, Mass., for a few days.

Mrs. C. E. Bulkley entertained the King's Daughters on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells of Greenfield Hill, were at the recent Chinese picnic held at Roton Point. It is said a number of prominent people were present, including the Ambassador from China.

Mrs. Arthur Pease has been visiting in town. She used to be the organist at the Congregational church at Greenfield Hill.

Our local grange on the hill has just been visited by members of the Grange from Easton.

Erastus Oakley and F. E. Northrop have returned from a visit to Louisville, where they went to attend a gathering of the Shriners.

Three children were baptized on Children's day at the church on Greenfield Hill—Ruth Elizabeth Jennings, Lawrence Freeman Pratt and Roland Stebbins Pratt.

Mrs. R. B. Jennings is visiting in Greenwich.

Next Friday Dr. Edgar C. Abbott of Boston, will give his lecture on "Orthello" at the assembly room of the Pequot Library.

The latest new books added to the Memorial Library include "Marriage a la Mode," by Mrs. Humphrey Ward, which is an attack upon American women who seek for divorces in Dakota for trivial reasons; The Romance of a Plain Man, by Ellen Glasgow; The Inner Shrine, by Katharine by Lane; Piccadilly to Fall Mall by Ralph, viii and Charles Edward Jennings; The Jew in English Literature, by C. L. Sherrill; Dame Curtesey's Book of Guessing Contests, and Novel Entertainments, by the same author; Library Primer, Dana; Eighty Pleasant Evenings; A Georgian Pageant, by Frankfort Moore; The Book of Witches, by Haeffer, and Photographs for Young People by Jenks.

Dispute on Calvin In Presbyterian Council

New York, June 17.—The session of the Council of the Presbyterian Churches yesterday, which was held in the chapel of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, was devoted to John Calvin. The attendance was much larger than on the opening day.

The Rev. Dr. William H. Roberts, an American, started a lively discussion late in the afternoon by declaring that Calvin had been an early and a strong advocate of the absolute separation of Church and State. The courts of the United States for the most part had followed Calvin in their decisions, and the recent General Assembly held at Denver took some action upholding anew the Calvin theory. Turning to the Scotch delegates he expressed the hope that other assemblies might be equally Calvinistic.

Before he was fairly finished Gen. R. E. Prime of Yonkers cut him off to express his sorrow that such a subject had been injected into the discussion. The time might come, he said, when the courts would prove to be the shpest of the churches, even for the defence of doctrines. He resented the implied criticism of the American courts and reminded the Rev. Dr. Roberts that court decisions thus far referred exclusively to property and not to doctrine. Dr. Roberts replied, with an apologetic air, that he had not intended to criticize American courts.

Lovers Communicate By Carrier Pigeon

Winsted, June 17.—David Cohen, who was recently called here from New York to manage a clothing business, proposes to keep in communication with his fiancée in the metropolis by carrier pigeon instead of by mail. She has received a dozen pigeons for that purpose, one of which took a prize at a recent show in Madison Square Garden.

By rail to New York is 118 miles, and it takes four hours for the fastest trains to get a letter there. By air line the distance is considerably shorter and Cohen has figured that he can beat Uncle Sam's delivery system by more than an hour.

Clairvoyant Sues Widow Of Al. Adams for $30,000

New York, June 17.—Suit for $30,000, alleged to be due her on a promise note, has been brought by Mrs. Marguerite Gilbert, a clairvoyant and palmist, against Mrs. Isabella V. Adams, widow of Al Adams, the "policy king." Mrs. Adams denies the validity of the note and asserts it was given upon Mrs. Gilbert's false representation that she possessed supernatural power and could avert impending disaster which threatened the family. Mrs. Adams also declares the note was given with the understanding that it was not to be used or presented for payment until after her death and that the arrangement was repudiated by her before the bringing of action.
